ELECT JOE RYAN SHERIFF ON RECORD

Sonoma's Candidate for Sheriff Has Few Equals as a Peace Officer in The State of California.

That the voters of Sonoma County sistance is rewarded. For 16 years may know more about the splendid he served in the capacity of deputy man which Sonoma Valley commends sheriff, and is a trained and success-as a candidate for sheriff and that ful sleuth. We know that no deputy our own voters may be reminded of sheriff in California has to his credit the enviable record of Joe Ryan dur-as many and notable single-handed ing his long years of residence here, captures as has Joe Ryan of Sonoma. the Index-Tribune takes pride and From his lips the voters of this pleasure in reviewing Ryan's honored career.

Joe Ryan was born in Solano coun-ty forty-four years ago and has re-sided in Sonoma continuously for-ing, his makeup being so free of thirty years; coming here as a boy, braggadocio. Quiet reserve and an his life has been an open book and unassuming matter-of-fact way are there is not a thing that can be said to his discredit. On the contrary by conscientious attention to business, saving and hard work, he established himself in the lively stable business and today he is considered one of our most substantial citizens.

During the years he was getting ahead, he always found time to give a helping hand to those less fortun-ate, and if helping ones fellow men counts in this world, Joe Ryan sure has a lot of good to his credit.

Coupled with his sympathetic un-derstanding of human nature and frailties, Joe has natural determina-tion of character and was as brave and fearless a peace officer as ever served the people anywhere.

Ryan's Record as Deputy Sheriff
Now, then, let us consider the offi-cer—the qualifications which pre-eminently fit him for the office of sheriff, and which place him in the of-ficial strength head and shoulders above his opponent.

Ryan is a man of but few words—so few as to be noteworthy, but in actions he is a host. Agile and alert, he is as the rock of Gibraltar in the face of danger when in the perform-ance of his duty. Whenever Ryan has been deputized to search for an offender and has been left to his own resources, he has never failed to land his man. He is marvelously fearless, indefatigable, heedless of time or fatigue until indomitable per-

Therefore before the voters go to the polls on August 27th, we want to bring before them a few of the note-worthy achievements of a man who on his record deserves promotion at the hands of the people. The following cases are just some among many, but in every instance recalled here, the officer effected his capture single-handed.

Alfred De Alfredo, arrested in 1904 in Los Angeles for horse stealing. During the journey at night across the Mohave Desert, the prisoner ef-fectively feigned illness, making re-peated trips to the lavatory. Each time the weary officer held the door to prevent the springing of the lock, but the ruse of the wily prisoner fin-ally worked and Ryan discovered his man as he disappeared through the window. The fact that the train was moving did not daunt Ryan, and in an instant he jumped from the plat-form into an unknown region at two o'clock, a. m. Before dawn the offi-cer had captured his man, who was convicted and sent to the peniten-tiary.

Louis West, who committed two robberies in 1906, was convicted and offender and has been left to his own resources, he has never failed to land his man. He is marvelously fearless, indefatigable, heedless of time or fatigue until indomitable per-box car at El Verano.

A. D. Angelo, who stole a horse from the Foster ranch at Lakeville, in 1910, was caught by Ryan and sentenced to five years.

F. Perault robbed a box car at Schellville in 1910, was caught by Ryan in the Napa hills, convicted and sent to the penitentiary.

A. L. Baldochi, who murdered a man in Mendocino county in 1908, was caught by Ryan in the redwoods near the Napa and Sonoma line, and is doing a life sentence.

Wm. Rosse, an ex-convict, was captured by Ryan in 1912, for rob-berry, and is the only man that officer has ever injured in the many arrests made by him. Rosse broke and run after being caught and was shot in the leg before he was subdued. He was convicted and sentenced to eight years.

Jas. Howell, who stole a horse and buggy in 1913, was captured by Ryan at San Rafael, convicted and sen-tenced to three years.

For a number of years the robbery of the N. W. P. depot had been an annual occurrence, sometimes oftener, and officer Ryan decided it was time to put a stop to the intermittent "break-ins", and so at his own ex-pense he installed an alarm system, connecting the depot with his sleep-ing apartment. This was in 1909. About one week later, as a result of the alarm, Ryan caught E. Nixon rob-bing the station. He was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Christmas of 1913, this same depot burglar alarm routed Ryan out of bed at two o'clock in the morning. He hurried out alone into the night, and hearing the scene of events, a muffled report announced the blowing up of the safe. Right here we want to ask a direct question—how many officers, under the circumstances, would have continued on ALONE in an isolated building, knowing safe-crackers were operating within and unaware how many were on the lookout without? On into the building went Ryan, and captured Jack Bragg, who entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to five years.

What think you of bravery such as this, voters of Sonoma County? What sort of a sheriff do you think this man will make?

In 1911, D. P. Cazet was wanted for burglary, and was located by Ryan at Schellville. Cazet was found in bed, one door of his room securely tied, and the other one at the foot of the bed locked. Kicking this door in, Ryan faced his man, and also a loaded shotgun with the muzzle pointed at his stomach. Before Cazet realized the identity of the intruder, the officer slipped to the side of the bed, grasped his prisoner, forcing the gun out of and beyond his reach. Part of the time the room was in darkness as the elderly man, who was guiding the officer's way with a lighted lamp quite naturally became fearful and disappeared to a point of safety. This was the narrowest escape Ryan ever encountered. Eight years was the sentence imposed on Cazet who had with him all the loot he had stolen from several families in the valley.

There are other important felony cases in which convictions were secured, and there are are countless others of minor importance.

Now, if a deputy can build up a record for the office of sheriff with such effective work, what think you, would be the record of Sonoma county's sheriff's office with Ryan as its chief?

Voters of Sonoma county we could not have a better qualified man for Sheriff of Sonoma county. Cast your ballot for Joe Ryan.

Friends and neighbors let every precinct in his home valley be solid for him Tuesday week. The primaries will decide the contest and we pre-dict one of the handsomest majorities ever accorded a candidate for Sheriff in the history of this office.

SLATER ILL IN HOSPITAL WITH CASE OF TONSILITIS

Senator Herbert Slater is ill in a hospital, suffering from tonsillitis. He is not permitted to have callers or to receive messages, as his attending physician orders complete rest and quiet for a week or more. He has been ill for several days past.

Irving Shepard expects to make a trip to Glasgow, Scotland, so he wired his mother at Glen Ellen on Thursday.

IN MEMORIAM

Morris Blair, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blair, recent comers to our valley, has given his life for his country.

The bereaved parents who reside near Vineburg, are in receipt of word from the War Department that the young man has made the supreme sacrifice on the battle-field of France.

The community will do honor to the stalwart patriot and long remember his valor whilst profound sympathy goes out to the parents, who though proud of the heroic sacrifice of their son, are stricken with grief over the loss of their soldier lad so far from home. He was a good dutiful son and enlisted in Goldfield, Nevada, his former home, where he was highly respected by all who knew him.

The father declares he is proud that his son gave his life to his country but no one can understand the heartache of a father and mother for a beloved and noble son to whose home coming they some day looked forward.

"Such was the youth we loved so well; Such were the hopes that fate denied— We loved, but ah! we could not tell How deep, how dearly, till he died."

A CORRECTION

Fetters Springs, Cal., Aug. 10, Sonoma Index-Tribune.

In your issue of Aug. 10th, you state that I testified in the Fetters trial held at Sacramento, that I heard Mrs. Duffy Lewis order the box of liquor, and also that Mrs. Lewis later remarked that she had succeeded in "getting" Mrs. Fetters. I gave no testimony whatever at the trial, was not present at Fetters Springs on the night in question and did not at any time hear Mrs. Duffy Lewis say that she had succeeded in "getting" Mrs. Fetters.

JUSTICE THOMAS J. LENNON FOR SUPREME COURT BENCH

It is with personal knowledge of the ability and record of his efficient and brilliant career as a jurist that we endorse the candidacy of Judge Thomas J. Lennon for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

For many years he practiced in the state and federal courts; for eight years he was on the Superior Court bench at San Rafael; and the past eight years he has been Presiding Justice of the District Court of Appeal of the First District. He has an enviable record as a jurist and a citizen and is highly regarded in our sister county of Marin.

Judge Lester Small married a couple Wednesday evening and gave them his judicial blessing. The happy groom was Sam Gottlieb a junk man of Los Angeles and the bride was Rose Lielen, a saleslady of San Francisco. They are spending their honeymoon at Zeifmann's farm.

FETTERS ARE FOUND GUILTY

Effort of Defense To Show "Frame-Up" of No Avail. Fine and Imprisonment Imposed.

U. S. District Judge William Van Fleet Saturday sentenced George Fetters to one year in the Sonoma county jail and a fine of $1000, and Mrs. Emma Fetters, his wife, to nine months imprisonment and a fine of $1000 for selling intoxicating liquors to B. E. Cransill, a U. S. sailor in uniform, on June 1st at Fetters Springs, Sonoma county, which the couple operate. Immediately following the pronouncement of judgment, Attorney's Cowan, Schlessinger and Woodward for the defense filed a writ of error, which served as an appeal and stopped the execution of the sentence. Mr. and Mrs. Fetters were admitted to bail in the sum of $5000 each.

The Fetters were found guilty of the crime, for which they were indicted by a federal grand jury, late Friday, by a jury after only 35 minutes deliberation.

In arguing his motion for a new trial, Attorney Schlessinger charged that no definite information or complaint had been filed with the department of justice, and that Cransill and his co-workers went to Fetters Springs with the deliberate intention to entrap the defendants into selling them liquor.

He charged that Cransill incited Mrs. Fetters to the crime and lured her on to sell the liquor, and cited opinions given in similar cases, which held that mere rumor and suspicion did not warrant a government agent inciting the commission of a crime. He claimed that the higher courts held such incited crimes did not warrant a conviction. Schlessinger charged that the whole case was simply an attempt to blacken the character of the defendants.

During the hearing, Mrs. Duffy Lewis, wife of the famous ball player who had been a former friend and patron of Fetters Springs, gave important testimony, contradicting the Fetters witnesses who said that the liquor was sold to her. She further alleges that Mrs. Fetters offered to pay her way and that of Anita Hughes if they would go to Boston and not testify.

Judge Van Fleet declared in passing judgment, that he could not see the state and federal courts; for that any attempt had been made to entrap Mrs. Fetters into selling the liquor and that he endorsed the finding of the jury. He seemed however, disposed to consider Mrs. Fetters age and the fact that she had "made good" these past ten years and the prosecuting attorney evidently feared that she might get off too easy.

P. H. Johnson, assistant U. S. attorney, then called to the stand, Jack Murray, deputy sheriff of Sonoma county, who has charge of the Fetters Springs district. Murray said that the place had a bad reputation, that complaints had often been made that soldiers were served liquors there, that shady practice in the hotel

DIRTY POLITICS? ROTTEN!

No fair minded man or woman can excuse the repeated wilful and malicious attempt of the Expositor to discredit and malign Coroner Phillips. The idea of making Mrs. Fetters an issue in this campaign for coroner is the most highly ludicrous piece of business one could devise. It is calculated of course to try and hurt Dr. Phillips standing in this community. As a matter of fact such tactics will win him more votes.

The venomous sheet which is the stool pigeon of Phillips' enemies will be roundly repudiated by the people of Sonoma county at the primaries. The inquest here at which Mrs. Fetters was called as a witness was attended by District Attorney Hoyle in his official capacity and that there were no irregularities of any kind what so ever goes without saying. Dirty politics? Rotten! and a shame for an editor who holds himself up to the community as a paragon of Christian precepts.

Mrs. Kate Buchanan has been named head of the Food Conservation work and registrar of sugar permits for Sonoma. Mrs. T. Baines and Mrs. Shepard were also named.

was repeatedly rumored and that the woman's club of the district had petitioned the supervisors to revoke the license after the federal investigation. The license was revoked.

Judge Van Fleet was urged to send the Fetters to the Sacramento county jail but exercised his own judgment and stipulated Santa Rosa.

He denied a motion made by the attorneys for the defense for a new trial as well as a motion for stay of judgment. A writ of error, which will serve as an appeal, was filed following sentence, and the defendants were released upon giving $5000 bail each.

It will take a year or more for the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals to reach the case. The appeal is made on the ground of error of the Court in instructions on the matter of entrapment.

Mr. and Mrs. Fetters deny the report that the Fetters Springs hotel property is for sale and say they would like the peddlers of such rumors to produce the real estate man reported to have it listed. They declare that they have spent time and money in building up a beautiful place and prosperous business and have no intention of placing it on the market.

OFFICIAL PROTEST ON DRY LAW

FARM BUREAU
AGAINST PROHIBITION

To President Wilson:
At the regular meeting of the Directors of Sonoma County Farm Bureau, held on July 20th 1918 a committee was appointed to make representations to you and others concerned, regarding the passage of the Norris Prohibition Amendment. As members of that committee, which speaks for an organization representing 1400 loyal farmers of Sonoma County, we desire to call your attention to some of the certain effects of the adoption of the Prohibition Amendment to the Agricultural Appropriation Bill.

FIRST: VINEYARDS: - The wine grape industry in Sonoma County has been fostered by the State and Nation until there are now 20,000 acres of wine grapes within the county; 75 per cent which is on land not adapted for the production of any other crop. The curtailment of the manufacture of this year's grape crop will mean economic ruin to hundreds of families in Sonoma County, whose sons are now offering themselves for the supreme sacrifice. All principles of justice and equity demand that the owners of these vineyards be compensated if they are summarily to be forced out of business.

Second: HOPS: - The unfairness of prohibitory legislation at a time of year when all the work has been done on the present crop, is apparent to all who have even a rudimentary knowledge of the business of hop producing. Immediate and summary prohibition will mean the total loss of capital and labor involved in the production of the present crop, and will not result in the increase of a single pound of food during the present season. A reasonable extension of time of the enacting clause in the Prohibition Amendment will enable the hop producers to prepare and execute their plans for the production next season of essential crops on land that is now producing hops.

Third: BUSINESS CONDITIONS: - Immediate prohibition will mean the loss of $4,000,000 this year to the producers of Sonoma County. Obviously this loss will seriously impair the ability of the banks of the county to meet their quota of Liberty Bonds, War Savings Stamps, Certificates of Deposit, etc.

"My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty."

The Index-Tribune is 41 Years Old Today

With this issue the Index-Tribune enters upon its forty-first birthday and it is with great satisfaction that we announce, never before in its history has the Index had so many paid subscribers and so many readers. It is the testimonial of the appreciation of the community in a good live newspaper, chronicling all the news and voicing an honest opinion on topics pertinent to the welfare of this locality.

The war and its conditions has made things such that newspapers all over the county are having a hard row to hoe. The cost of production has greatly increased, the help problem is a growing one and never has so much been expected of the press in a national way. We must all help win the war and from big cities to small towns the local press is a big factor counted on by the government in the intricate details of disseminating information and keeping high the fires of patriotism. The community is to be thanked by the country for the patronage accorded the local paper which it deems worthy of doing this great work, for the nation leaves it to the people to back up the press financially. There are no funds provided by the government to finance news stories of the Liberty Loan, Red Cross etc. If we were all blessed with Hearst incomes we might not look to the community and yet after all the really successful and enduring newspaper needs more than income and revenue to keep its status 100 per cent patriotic and 100 per cent in public favor.

The Index-Tribune has always enjoyed the confidence of the people and we will always try to merit it. We do not pretend to run the paper in the interest of a self elected clique nor will we act as the mouth piece of such. We stand for the square deal as against emotional prejudice believing that the honest and just can afford to give a square deal to any man or woman with full confidence in the outcome. We believe in the vigorous enforcement of the law all along the line but do not countenance a hit and miss program nor the passage of dozens of new laws to satisfy political whims or to do some body's bidding. We believe that when a man takes office committed to a certain platform or pledge he should be unwavering in his loyalty to it and we have more regard for a "bone dry" who hangs to the bone than we have for a wet who hasn't got the back bone to stay with his constituents. Government by the people is not a success nor is the voice of the people recorded if a representative gets into power thru their suffrage and changes his policy when casting the vote which is rightfully theirs. A newspaper should see to it that the peoples will is carried out.

It is with pride that we note the war status of Sonoma Valley and we count it an honor to write the name of every Sonoma valley boy serving in the army and navy. We trust we may record the home coming of the majority of all our brave lads but should it be our solemn duty to write of the supreme sacrifice, we will count it among the greatest though saddest lines of the records which has been the weekly duty of the Index-Tribune to chronicle for these four score years.

We wish to thank our patrons, one and all for their patronage and support and assure them that the Index-Tribune will continue to boost Sonoma Valley, to sing its praises and do all that we can to promote the welfare of all honest well meaning people who make their home in this beautiful section of our golden state and to endorse every movement for Sonoma's up-building when actuated by motives which we know are not ulterior or bear the stamp of the hypocrite or self seeker. We do not crave the approval of all, being satisfied with just the majority, nor do we relish the experience enjoyed by some contemporaries of carrying water on both shoulders. Usually the fellow who does that and then makes his maiden attempt to take a flyer at the devil or the deep sea gets the devil, hoof, horns and tail when he does make a blind or dictated choice. The newspaper which has the courage of its sentiments, makes it a business to get facts first-hand and then expresses untrammelled opinion is the one to pin your faith to. We covet the respect of our readers regardless of whether they always concur in our opinions. In the future as in the past the slogan of the Index-Tribune will be fostering the interest and good, the happiness and well being of the greatest number of our people. "That is good which is good for the greatest number."

Federal Government Strictly Enforces Law

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT shows no leniency when a jury finds parties guilty of selling liquor to uniformed men and it is to be hoped that no more Sonoma Valley resorts will be caught in the dragnet which is spread where ever there is the faintest suspicion of the disregarding of laws safeguarding our soldiers. The Index-Tribune sounded a warning many months ago and urged our resort keepers to uphold the honor and glory of Sonoma Valley in the matter of keeping strict tab on Uncle Sams requirements and obeying the law to the letter. Notwithstanding two of the valley's biggest resort proprietors have been brought before the Federal Court and adjudged guilty.

The finding of the jury in the Fellers inquiry will be a blow to one of the leading and most popular resorts of this section. It is not as though it was a road house. Fellers has been a big institution—hotel, mineral baths and theatre and has been the mecca of hundreds of visitors every season. If as the deputy sheriff testified, it was frequented off and on by undesirable characters, it is only the natural consequence of running a big public place on a big scale. Some of our biggest San Francisco hotels have had opprobrious epithets linked at times with their names. But that is neither here nor there, the management has been found guilty by a jury of selling liquor to the sailor boys who were there at the Red Cross dance and the punishment should be a warning to every dispenser of liquor in the valley. It shows that neither influence nor money avails when the evidence is secured for Uncle Sam and the federal authorities decide to take action. And that is as it should be, for there should be no discrimination between law breakers, whether they have a $50 income or a $5000 income.

"American Schooner" is victim of submarine" says a startling heading. Sounds like the prohibitionists were getting desperate.

The much despised mud hen is now a protected bird and 25 is the limit. Is it not ze limit.

German Propaganda that needs lots of prop just now—"the Americans will not fight." And now we are going to take Bray, Hee! Haw! and Royle, Oh Boy!

The force of the argument against Dr. Phillips from the nozzle of Watters and Hose was a pretty poor sample and petered out woefully.

We have heard of a platform in politics but we never heard of a Flohr.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will serve their annual chicken pie dinner and supper in the parlors of the church, on Wednesday, August 21, at which time they desire a goodly patronage and in return they will greet everybody cordially and serve them the best meal they can possibly provide for the price of 50 cents. T. V. BUTTS FOR TAX COLLECTOR

Well-Known Public Official Announces Himself as a Candidate for Election to the Office He Now Fills By Appointment.

T. V. Butts, who was appointed to the office of County Tax Collector following the death of the late Frank M. Collins, has announced his candidacy for election to that office subject to the August primaries. Mr.

Butts is well-known to the people of Sonoma county, having served for eleven years as Deputy County Tax Collector previous to his appointment to that office, which was by unanimous vote of the Board of Supervisors. Mr. Butts was born in Fulton, and is a son of the late Thomas J. Butts, a former well-known attorney of this city and county. His boyhood days were spent in Guerneville, where his father, as a young man, worked in the lumber camps and later on was employed in a sawmill. Mr. Butts belongs to several fraternal orders, takes an interest in public affairs, and being unmarried, resides with his mother, for whom he has provided a home for years.

SANTA ROSA BOY MET BOB EVANS IN FRANCE

Corporal Patrick F. McCarthy of Uncle Sam's air service has written to friends in Santa Rosa of life and experiences in France. In the course of his letter he tells of meeting Bob Evans of the California Telephone and Light Co., brother of Ralph Evans formerly of this place.

Bob Evans is well known in Sonoma too. Of their meeting, Mr. McCarthy writes: "Two days before we left the last camp I was talking to the C. O. of an engineers' detachment about some supplies when I heard 'Hello, Mac!' Who was it but Bob Evans of the Telephone company. We had a great talk. He told me that Kemp Ross was in the same battalion, only in another detachment up the country. We passed thru the town in which he was stationed—unfortunately I did not get to see him.

It was Bob's first visit near the lines. The evening his bunch arrived in camp the Boches put on a grand show, bombing all around us. When the night is clear a well put on bombing party is a grand sight, it being four or five miles away from you, of course. The flare of the exploding shells, shrapnel starting the sky, searching for a Hun plane, numerous searchlights playing around—we were having a great time viewing the second reel when bang came an explosion a short distance from us. I wish some chap had timed me as I ran for my helmet and mask. It was all over in a short time and once more we resumed our outward calm—(outward). I didn't see Bob afterwards, so don't know how they felt—probably slept through it, as lots of the fellows do."

CORONER PHILLIPS AGAIN BUSY

Another Inquest In Remote Part of County Demonstrates That Popular Official Continues To More Than Earn His Salary.

Dr. Frank H. Phillips, coroner and public administrator, has again demonstrated his devotion to duty and gone to the uttermost corner of the county to hold an inquest over an unfortunate. Sunday morning Coroner Phillips was notified of the finding of the body of an unfortunate on Buckeye creek, a branch of the Gualala, and directly on the line of Mendocino county.

Distance made no difference to the coroner, and he promptly departed for the scene, held the inquest and reached this city shortly after noon on Monday. He had spent more than a day and a half on this case, and had made a thorough investigation of the circumstances of death as best could be done. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from unknown causes. James Long, one of the owners of the American Redwood Lumber Company, was foreman of the jury which returned the verdict.

No one in the vicinity of the Gualala had ever seen the man before, and the manner of his death could not be learned. The body was found lying beneath a trestle of the lumber company's railroad, in about two feet of water. It was taken from the water and held pending the arrival of the coroner, who made the long journey in remarkable time in his auto.

The stranger was dressed in corduroy pants, blue working shirt, carried an extra pair of shoes in his roll of blankets, had a comforter, carried cooking utensils and had an Ingersoll watch. He was apparently about 60 years of age.

It is supposed that the man had fallen from the trestle when he attempted to cross the same. He had one eye considerably blackened, and it is presumed that this eye became injured in the fall. There were no signs of any scuffle, and it is only conjecture that the man may have fallen from the trestle, and the position of the body beneath the trestle lends color to that theory.

The scene where he body was discovered is on the property of the American Redwood Lumber Company in one of the most out-of-the-way and inaccessible places in the entire county. It is seven miles off the roads, and difficult to reach. Despite all of these things, Coroner Phillips personally visited the scene and performed the duties of making a thorough investigation.

This is in line with the conduct of cases by Coroner Phillips during his entire administration of four years. He has never hesitated night or day to respond to a call, no distance too great for him to undertake and no difficulties have proved insurmountable to him. He has cared for every person's estate which has come into his hands as if it were his personal business affair and has given general satisfaction in the discharge of his duties. —Santa Rosa Republican

MONSTROUS IDEA IN GERMAN MIND

Treachery, Murder, Barbarity,
Anything, Praiseworthy if for Prussia's Gain.

Abominable System That Must Be
Overthrown if the World Is to Be Worth Living In, Regardless of the Cost.

This I have seen. I could not believe it unless I had seen it through and through. For several weeks I lived with it; I went all about it and back of it; inside and out of it was shown to me—until finally I came to realize that the incredible was true. It is monstrous, it is unthinkable, but it exists. It is the Prussian system.—F. C. Walcott.

At a conference of field men of the United States food administration held in Washington, F. C. Walcott pictured conditions as he had found them in the countries invaded by German arms. Mr. Walcott served with Mr. Hoover on the Belgium relief commission when this nation was attempting to feed the starving civilian population of Belgium, Poland and northern France. In his address he had pictured such conditions as he said he could not believe unless he had seen the situation through and through, and had lived with it for weeks. He showed these terrible conditions to be the result of deliberate plans on the part of official Germany, and in summing up he said:

"Such is the German mind as it was disclosed to me in several weeks' contact with officers of the staff. Treaties are scraps of paper, if they hinder German aims. Treachery is condoned and praised, if it falls in with German interest. Men, lands, countries are German prizes. Populations are to be destroyed or enslaved so Germany may gain. Women are Germany's prey, children are spoils of war. God gave Germany the Hohenzollern and together they are destined to rule Europe and, eventually, the world—thus reasons the Kaiser.

"Coolly, deliberately, officers of the German staff, permeated by this monstrous philosophy, discuss the denationalization of peoples, the destruction of nations, the undoing of other civilizations, for Germany's account.

"In all the world such a thing has never been. The human mind has never conceived the like. Even among barbarians, the thing would be incredible. The mind can scarcely grasp the fact that these things are proposed and done by a modern government professedly a Christian government in the family of civilized nations.

"This system has got to be rooted out. If it takes everything in the world, if it takes everyone of us, this abomination must be overthrown. It must be ended or the world is not worth living in. No matter how long it takes, no matter how much it costs, we must endure to the end with agonized France, with imperiled Britain, with shattered Belgium, with shaken Russia.

"We must hope that Germany will have a new birth as Russia is being reborn. We must pray, as we fight against the evil that is in Germany, that the good which is in Germany may somehow prevail. We must trust that in the end a Germany really great with the strength of a wonderful race may find its place as one of the brotherhood of nations in the new world that is to be.

"The responsibility of success or failure rests now upon our shoulders; the eyes of the world are anxiously watching us. Are we going to be able to rise to the emergency, throw off our inefficiency, and prove that democracy is safe for the world?"

In the above statement Mr. Walcott has described a condition that must be changed if America, if the world, is to remain a "fit place to live in." And the only way by which this change can be effected is the defeat of German arms in this war. Nothing good, nothing but evil, can come out of Germany, so long as the German people are controlled by a military autocracy, and the German people cannot be made to realize this until this autocracy is crushed. The spirit of militarism that has made of the Germans a robber and a murder nation must be utterly crushed if the world is to remain free, and to accomplish this those of us who cannot fight in France must lend our support to our men who are fighting for us.

FLIER IS MADE CHEVALIER

Guymer's Friend and Pupil Has Seven Victories to His Credit.

Paris.—Sous-Lieutenant Bozon-Verduraz, recently made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor, following his seventh officially recorded aerial victory, was the intimate friend and pupil of Guymer.

He accompanied Guymer September 11, 1917, when the latter met his fate. His one thought since, it is asserted, has been to avenge the great ace. One of the new chevalier's feats was to shoot down three planes in four hours. He was a cavalryman until transferred to the air service.

CAPTURED HUN TANK REPAIRED BY FRENCH

The tank seen in this French official photograph was captured by the French in the recent heavy fighting on the western front. The tank was demolished by the heavy French gunfire and it took these crafty Frenchmen twelve days of work under enemy fire to put it in order again. The photograph shows the French crew which repaired the tank and which is operating it with great results against the enemy.

BRITISH WOUNDED PASS THROUGH FRENCH LINE

During the fiercest of the fighting in a battle in France British wounded on the way to hospitals were carried past the lines of the French. As he passes the trenches filled with machine gunners in action this wounded Tommy, interested, has raised his head to watch his French cousins help hold the Hun. Away at the rear in the woods cavalry horses can be seen corralled while their riders wait the command to advance.

BEN F. BALLARD

FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Well Known Assistant Superintendent Seeks Promotion to the Superintendency.

Some of my opponents are making a house to house canvass. I have not the time to meet you in that way. You probably have not the time to see me in that way. These are WAR times and there is too much work in the office for me to be able to make such a campaign. I shall endeavor to meet the people through the newspapers of the county.

The extra work that has been going through the office of the Superintendent of Schools for many months on account of the war is very large. It includes work for the Red Cross, Junior Red Cross, Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps, Liberty Bonds, Food Conservation and many other forms of war work. This is a "WAR UNTIL VICTORY," and the schools of this nation are doing and will continue to do their part in winning the war.

Your vote is solicited. My name will appear on all ballots.

BEN F. BALLARD.

Primary Election August 27, 1918.

ARTHUR FISK WRITES OF FRANCE

Praises Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross Says Everything Over There is Sacrifice.

The following letter has been received by Mrs. Arthur Fisk who is in France with the Engineer Corps. "This is the first opportunity I have had to write to you for some time, and I hope you have not worried over the now arrival of mail from me. I left a telegram to be sent you from our port of embarkation as soon as I arrived safely over here, so I suppose you just about received that today. I also left a card to be sent to you. The censors will be very strict in regard to what we write, so things that I would like to tell you will not be permissible. We had a very uneventful trip over. I did not get seasick, nor did we have a chance to practice on any of Kaiser Bill's subs. I feel fine and am anxious to go to work. The trains I saw this morning are not to be compared with the American standard railroad equipment. I suppose we will be able to use our skill on them in a few days, altho we will not work on them out of this point. Everything is so different here than in old U. S. A.

The buildings are all old, the streets narrow with stone fences on each side. There are no young men on the streets and the women all seem to dress in black. I am enclosing a small flower from France. It is my first souvenir to you and I hope the censor does not lose it out of the envelope.

It doesn't seem as though I am 7000 miles away from home. I suppose this is because we are here in camp and all I see is soldiers, which was the same sight that always greeted me when I was in camp in the states. The trees and grass are very green here now, and the species seem to be similar to that back in Indiana so I suppose the climate will be the same. This camp, I understand, was erected by Napoleon and is surely antique. There is a high stone wall all around the camp and the barracks are of stone with slate roofs and are whitewashed inside. Our laundry is similar to the ones you may have seen in the French and Italian pictures. We gather all our laundry and dip the clothes in the pool and rub them on the large flat stones that surround the pool. We are only at this camp for a few days and the only city I have seen was the port we disembarked in. From what I have seen of the sacrifices made by the French women and children, I can say that the people back home do not realize that war is on. Preach Hooverizing to those that are wasting foodstuffs and clothing. I cannot say enough in praise of the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross. They surely provide cheer and comfort for the boys. The Y. M. C. A. has erected a hut here at this old French army post and it is surely appreciated. I am writing this at the "Y" now. Last night Harry Hatfield and I came up here and saw "Baby Mine," played by an American troupe. It was a great treat but made me mighty homesick, for you and I saw that played last year at Frisco. One of the Negro companies here has a stringed orchestra and they played after the musical comedy. The 60th played baseball with the Negro company's team and we won. I haven't played yet but intend to get out and practice. We have had a drizzly rain ever since we arrived and our baseball field is in poor shape. I am sending you a silk handkerchief. I paid two francs and fifty centimes for it. Now I am broke but pay day comes soon. Please don't laugh at the color combinations, it was all I could get and I wanted to send you something. Remember to write me about Phyllis Jean and keep her from forgetting her Daddy. Tell her to keep on praying hard for us. Top Sergeant Murray sends you his regards and says he wishes he could lunch with us again. Hatfield and Fogarty ask to be remembered. Well, goodbye for today. I'll write once a week at least. Love to all Arthur

MURDER OF NATION BY RUTHLESS HUNS

How the Poles Were Slain and Starved and Frozen During the German Drive.

F. C. Walcott Tells of the Scenes of Horror He Witnessed Along the Road From Warsaw to Pinsk—Million Persons Homeless.

"This I have seen. I could not believe it unless I had seen it through and through. For several weeks I lived with it; I went all about it and back of it; inside and out of it was shown to me—until finally I came to realize that the incredible was true. It is monstrous, it is unthinkable, but it exists. It is the Prussian system.—F. C. Walcott.

The following is a statement by F. C. Walcott, who served as an assistant to Mr. Hoover during the time America was doing all that was possible to feed the starving millions of Belgium and Poland and northern France. In this work he was brought in direct contact with German military officials, and saw the conditions which the German invasion had created among the civilian population:

I went to Poland to learn the facts concerning the remnant of a people that had been decimated by war. The country had been twice devastated. First the Russian army swept through it and then the Germans. Along the roadside from Warsaw to Pinsk, nearly half a million people had died of hunger and cold. The way was strewn with their bones picked clean by the crows. With their usual thrift, the Germans were collecting the larger bones to be milled into fertilizer, but finger and toe bones lay on the ground with the mud-covered and rain-soaked clothing.

Wicker baskets were scattered along the way—the basket in which the baby swings from the ruff in every peasant home. Every mile there were scores of them, each one telling a death. I started to count, but after a little I had to give it up, there were so many.

That is the desolation one saw along the great road from Warsaw to Pinsk, mile after mile, more than two hundred miles. They told me a million people were made homeless in six weeks of the German drive in August and September, 1916. They told me four hundred thousand died on the way. The rest, scarcely half alive, got through with the Russian army. Many of these have been sent to Siberia; it is these people whom the Paderewski committee is trying to relieve.

In the refugee camps, 300,000 survivors of the flight were gathered by the Germans, members of broken families. They were lodged in jerry-built barracks, scarcely water-proof, unlighted, unwarmed in the dead of winter. Their clothes, where the buttons were lost, were sewed on. There were no conveniences, they had not even been able to wash for weeks. Filth and infection from vermin were spreading. They were famished, their daily ration a cup of soup and a piece of bread as big as my fist.

In Warsaw, which had not been destroyed, a city of one million inhabitants, one of the most prosperous cities of Europe before the war, the streets were lined with people in the pangs of starvation. Famished and rain-soaked, they squatted there, with their elbows on their knees or leaning against the buildings, too feeble to lift a hand for a bit of money or a morsel of bread if one offered it, perishing of hunger and cold. Charity did what it could. The rich gave all that they had, the poor shared their last crust. Hundreds of thousands were perishing. Day and night the pictures in before my eyes—a people starving, a nation dying.

The above statement by Mr. Walcott is a terrible arraignment of the Hun, but no more terrible than he deserves. What has happened in Poland and Belgium, in northern France and every other country that has been blighted by the Hun's presence would happen in America should the allies, by any chance, fail to win this war. It would mean the enslavement of American men, the starving and death of American women and children. Either the Hun or humanity must perish.

KILLED BY GERMAN HELMET

American Soldier Hunting Souvenir Picked Up Charged Headpiece.

Shamokin, Pa.—Writing from a dug-out in No Man's Land, France, Leo Comer, a corporal in the Twenty-third United States Infantry, forwarded to his sister here, Miss Cecelia Comer, a bunch of strange flowers he had gathered while on patrol duty.

Comer had promised a younger brother a German steel helmet as a war relic, but in writing informed the brother that he was doomed to disappointment until the Americans reach Berlin. He had seen a fellow soldier pick up a steel helmet and then fall dead.

The helmet had been electrically charged by the Germans.

C. A. POOL FOR AUDITOR

AUDITOR C. A. POOL IS CANDIDATE FOR REELECTION

Charles A. Pool, candidate for reelection to the office of County Auditor, is making a vigorous campaign throughout Sonoma County and was recently in Sonoma and vicinity met-ing his many friends. Mr. Pool was born near Windsor and has lived in this county all his life. Mr. Pool's father came to California in 1852 and first settled in the historic town of Sonoma, where he was foreman on a potato ranch. Later he moved to Windsor, where he reared a large family.

Charles A. Pool has long been the auditor of our county and his repeated re-elections to the office bespeak the high esteem in which he is held by the voters and also the efficient services he has rendered them in the important position of Auditor of Sonoma County.

STUNG

Once there was a little man
Thought he was wondrous wise
He figured he'd get real fame
By telling startling lies
For other guys they'd only hint
Whilst he was brave and willing
To wield an axe in politics
For them do all the killing
He had a paper that he bought
To air his views and notions
On shows, "dark Russia" constables
Salons and Vineburg lotions
He had his ear all cocked one day
And heard some bull con knocking
The Coroner was just an awful man
His conduct, it was shocking
Enuf said Pious Peckersniff
I've got a tip terrific
To oust that man from office
I've got the one specific
He seized the bull right by the horns
And did as he was bid
Came out and knocked the Coroner
And lifted high the lid
From East and West and North and South
Came Phillips friends all flocking
They flayed that fellow of the press
And set him nights to rocking
He wonders yet why some guys sly
Tipped him the dope defective
On politics and those old jobs
Officials call elective.

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since.

Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA? Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoria, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and the assimilation of Food, giving healthy children. T. V. BUTTS, PRESENT INCUMBENT FOR TAX COLLECTOR

Familiarity with the duties of the office of Tax Collector of Sonoma County and a desire to further serve the people in that capacity has led to the vigorous campaign of the present incumbent, T. Virgil Butts, who asks for the votes of his friends at the primaries on the 27th. Mr. Butts served under the late "Cop" Collins and after the death of that popular official, he was chosen to fill the vacancy in the office. He has made good in every sense of the word and believes that the interest of Sonoma county would be best served by making no change in the office he holds. Mr. Butts aims to carry the work along in a business-like conscientious manner.

He is prominent in fraternal circles, has a wide circle of friends and his always genial personality has won him lots of good boosters in the three cornered fight for the office which he has had to make.

Political prognosticators figure that he will lead by a handsome majority. See his card in another column.

LOCAL NOTES

George Zane, nephew of Claude Johnson, writes to his mother in Woodland that he has been in the hick of it "over there". Young Zane is in the Engineers and belongs to the Demolition Division, which means that he and his companions follow the American army and demolish everything after a battle that would be of any use to the enemy. They also destroy bridges over which our troops pass and then mount horses and ford streams and rivers to rejoin their comrades.

Zane is well and his last letter was posted the latter part of June. Miss Bessie Knight was up Sunday last, the guest of her parents at Schellville.

WILLIE SUTTER LIKES FRANCE

Tells of Fourth of July and Similarity of Country To Dear Old California

On Active Service with the American Expeditionary Forces, Tours, France, July 6th, 1918.

My Dear Mother:
I have written you several times and suppose you have received my letters by this time. I am in the best of health hoping you all at home are the same. We spent the Fourth of July here in Tours, France. The boys had a good time, games and sports, given by the Y. M. C. A. We enjoyed ourselves very much, the French people also enjoyed our Independence day. Well mother, I am going to be French man pretty soon, I have learned quite a few words already.

I like France very much, it reminds me of old California, the only thing that is missing here are the jitney busses and the Perry building, otherwise there's no difference. Next time you see Mr. Froment, the French man tell him the weather here is fine in his old home country. Well mother, tell my friends I am still knocking around. If they want to write, give them my address, also give Bert my address. Well mother news is scarce that I am permitted to write so I will close. Your loving son,

William J. Sutter.

P. S., Send me the Home town paper. My address is: Private Wm. J. Sutter, 102 Aero Squadron, 2nd A. I. G., Tours, France.

Wm. Clements and Dr. A. M. Thomson motored to Willits this week.

Peter Boccoli Jr. who was at an English training Camp for some months is now at the French front.

Mrs. Ralph Hotz spent two days last week in San Francisco and chose an apartment for Mrs. G. H. Hotz and son Harold.

Maurel Villa will be the scene of a pleasant gathering tomorrow in honor of one of the French holidays.

Some clever verse by a chum of Irving Redmond, a former Sonoma boy now in France, will be published in our next issue.

Sergeant Barney Cohen was last heard from in Pennsylvania and it is expected that he is enroute to France by this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Zane of Woodland had the misfortune to lose their first baby, the infant having died on July 29th at Beamer Park.

Miss Alta Bish and Miss Bessie Venton went up to Shingle Springs Placer county on a visit to relatives this week.

Miss Mabel Jones has resigned from the faculty of the Sonoma High School as she has a better position.
